

Oman's net external position is worse than the 'BB' median, due to high current account deficits (CADs) in recent years before the recovery in oil prices, and extensive borrowing by the government and SOEs.