

To summarize, we found the main challenges in Kuwait's power system. Our goal is to build a smart, AI-powered fault detection system that can help Kuwait have safer and more reliable power.