

Quality Assessment: The study is well-designed, with a robust methodology and comprehensive reporting of the results. The findings contribute to the evidence on the effectiveness of nurse-led DSME programs in improving glycemic control and other health outcomes in individuals with type 2 diabetes. The study is of high quality and provides valuable insights for healthcare professionals and policymakers in the management of diabetes in the Iranian context.