

Power distance: Extent that members of an organization accept inequality and whether they perceive much distance between those with power and those with little power.