5.Within the software, you can document all processes related to each step of lab quality control, such as the testing required for verification and validation or internal audits.