

2. The beginning researcher will likely turn to the literature for help in locating and formulating a researchable problem. Reviewing the literature on the problem.