

?where I honed my customer service skills and learned the importance of creating a positive first impression.I am fluent in Arabic and English, which enables me to effectively communicate with guests from various cultural backgrounds.However, I firmly believe that my strong determination and willingness to learn will help me overcome any challenges that may arise.?While I strive for excellence, I am also aware of my weaknesses and continuously work on improving them.?Thank you for considering my application.