

Unwittingly, Peter was speaking for Satan. Satan had purposely tempted Jesus in the wilderness to divert Him from the cross, from fulfilling the grand design of the Father and the Son (Mark 1:12–13). Like Jesus' adversary, Peter was not setting his mind on the things of God His ways, His plans, and His purposes (Colossians 3:2; Isaiah 55:8–9).