

The internet weather Types of severe weather conditions are high winds, hail, excessive precipitation, forest fires and hurricanes. And when floods and rains I must stay away from places that collect water to protect myself and others.