

it's a great thing to discover another culture and go deep in their religion, and their beliefs. We also went to the pyramids of Giza, and many Egyptian people welcomed us and gave us some souvenirs. People there were so nice and kind, they always welcomed us in their homes and their restaurants. On an incredible trip me and my friends decided to go to Egypt on our summer holiday, and it was something unforgettable experience. We tried many delicious dishes Which had a different taste.
