

*passage to India is an examination of the Customs of different cultures. On the English side, many cultural forces affect the characters.