

The Transition movement engages in a wide range of activities, including:

- Policy Advocacy: Advocating for policies that support renewable energy, local food production, sustainable transportation, and community resilience at local and regional levels.
- Local Economies: Supporting local businesses, promoting bartering and local currencies, and encouraging economic resilience through diversification.
- Community Gardens: Establishing and maintaining local gardens to promote food sovereignty and reduce dependence on imported goods.
- Energy Initiatives: Implementing renewable energy projects such as solar panels, wind turbines, and community-owned energy cooperatives.
