

Though they required tracks and electric cables to run, these trolley cars were clean and comfortable.