

A few years ago there was a poor family in our neighborhood living in an old house. Fortunately, it can make his wish come true. They kept his house and found him a good job. The father could not find a job so he could earn a living. So he got a better life.