

Meanwhile, the brain receives signals about the pain, allowing for conscious awareness and understanding of the danger.