

The Global Village in Dubai has become a significant contributor to the city's thriving tourism industry and economy.