

Because bacterial nucleic acids and certain Cell wall Components Carry a negative charge that strongly attracts and binds to that carried positively charged "Cation"