

Honami's leadership skills shone through in organizing insightful discussions, while Kei's perspectives gained from his experiences added depth to their collaborative projects. As the special exam concluded, a student leader vacancy arose at Tokyo Advanced Academy, with Kyoutaka, Suzune, and Arisu emerging as formidable candidates. Under the guidance of Arisu and Kyoutaka, Class D flourished in inter-class competitions and collaborative projects, showcasing the power of cooperation, curiosity, and goodwill. Through teamwork and salvaging flotsam, Kyoutaka and Honami led the group in creating a makeshift raft as their sole means of escape slipped beneath the angry surf. This marked the true beginning of Hirata's journey at Tokyo Advanced Academy, where he formed unexpected bonds and pushed himself to new limits, especially with Kyoutaka. Kyoutaka, already formulating strategies, was paired with the Class B leader, Honami Ichinose, creating intrigue among their peers. On the day of departure, aboard the S.S. Hasegawa, Kyoutaka and Honami discussed strategizing to maximize their advantages, showcasing their like-minded thinking. Back on shore, exam results revealed Kyoutaka and Honami's earned victory by a narrow margin over Suzune and Kouenji due to their leadership and problem-solving skills during the crisis. The resolution of the misunderstandings and the formation of a genuine partnership between Hirata and Suzune set the stage for exciting times at the academy. As the ship sailed towards uncharted waters, Kei noticed Honami's interest in Kyoutaka and warned him to tread carefully to maintain their partnership's integrity. Suzune smiles knowingly at the bond forming between them, as friendships blossom and tensions linger. As the new academic term began, Arisu, Kyoutaka, Nagumo, Honami, and Kei focused on cultivating understanding among their peers. Arisu noted Kyoutaka's skillful defusing of tensions and the potential benefits of his leadership style. Through his guidance, Hirata and Suzune were able to reach a deeper understanding, forming a renewed partnership based on transparency. The future looked promising as the talented individuals worked together and supported each other, guided by Kyoutaka's perceptive leadership. As the pairs strategized, Kyoutaka and Honami demonstrated pure coordination, catching Kei's attention. Stay tuned for more thrilling developments as our heroes navigate the uncharted terrain and the mysterious forces at play. As pairs venture urgently into the dense jungle, bonds are formed through shared hardships. Kyoutaka and Honami stand out as a seamless duo, whose trust deepens as they overcome obstacles. With the ship's engines failing, they rally courageously under Kyoutaka and Honami's guidance. Nagumo approached to discuss inter-class relations with Kyoutaka, intrigued by his leadership approach. They shared perspectives on nurturing students' strengths and the benefits of cooperation over unchecked rivalry. Meanwhile, Nagumo and Honami exchanged insights on students struggling under past systems, leading to a deeper understanding and empathy among the characters. Preparations began as rivals became temporary allies, and bonds were forged in unpredictable ways. Driven by curiosity and self-interest, the pairs set out into the jungle at dawn, unsure of the challenges they would face or the identity of the enigmatic caller. As alliances shifted and tensions rose, the future remained uncertain on Hasegawa Island. With the climax near, tensions escalate between Kei and Kyoutaka, leading to a confrontation. Arisu watches with intrigue, doubting Ayanokouji's true intentions. Students aboard the S.S. Hasegawa faced a dire situation when a monstrous wave capsized the freighter, leaving them clinging for dear life. In a surprising turn of events, Kyoutaka declined the position, allowing Arisu to become the Class Leader with Kyoutaka serving as her Vice Chairman. Following their strategic alliance, Arisu and Kyoutaka worked together to lead their class, fostering understanding and cooperation among the students. Suzune observed the growth and engagement of her peers under the new leadership, leading to overall understanding and respect among the classmates. The students' success was a testament to the strength that can be achieved through unity and mutual understanding, paving the way for exciting new developments and challenges in the future. Arisu noticed Kyoutaka taking on heavy responsibilities alone and gently insisted they share burdens to prevent burnout. This misunderstanding reached a breaking point during a collaborative project, resulting in harsh words exchanged between Suzune and Hirata. As the reputation of Class A2 continued to rise, administrators decided to push boundaries further by organizing a special collaborative exam. She warned him of Honami's feelings, prompting Kyoutaka's reassurance that their partnership was solid. As they disembarked on Hasegawa Island, the groups started planning under the tropical sun, setting aside rivalries for the challenge ahead. Each pair utilized their strengths, with Ayanokouji and Ichinose showing early promise with their coordination. A mysterious radio transmission urged them to a rendezvous point, teasing a proposition that could benefit all. Nightfall brings them to an ancient stone temple with cryptic clues to uncover the island's history. As tensions rise, the temple collapses, revealing a glint of treasure. Bonds are forged that night beyond expectations, with hidden depths emerging for all. As dawn breaks, Suzune's burden is lifted, and bonds are strengthened amongst the group. The climax unfolds as the group works together to unravel the final mysteries of the ancient temple. Bittersweet emotions swirl as they set sail back to Tokyo Advanced Academy, prepared for whatever may come next. Reflecting on the harrowing ordeal, Honami and Kyoutaka share a moment of understanding. After hours of perseverance, all twenty-seven students were safely aboard the raft when rescuers appeared on the horizon. Honami approached Kei to discuss their experiences, leading to a newfound understanding and respect between the two. However, the jungle presented unknown dangers, leading to tensions amongst the students. Doubts arise about the exam's path, especially for Kei, who observes their connection closely. The stakes are raised as time runs out and hidden depths emerge between allies. Settling in for the night, Suzune surprises all with a confession about her true name and insecurities. Returning triumphantly to the rendezvous point, an understanding forms between allies and rivals. Bonds are forever changed, and new chapters await on familiar shores. As the academy comes into view, bittersweet memories reawaken, setting the stage for new challenges ahead. The gripping climax awaits as they face their greatest challenge yet on the brink of home. Mixed emotions emerged as the exhausted students returned to campus, with Kei reflecting on the harrowing moments at sea. After a tense vote resulted in a tie between Arisu and Kyoutaka, an outside arbiter was called in to make the final decision. Kyoutaka stepped in to address the underlying issues and encouraged honesty to move past the misunderstanding. Students would be paired across classes to search for hidden treasure on the uncharted Hasegawa Island. Supported by her peers, she finds strength in their acceptance. The future remains uncertain as the exam's climax approaches. Just when all seems lost, a hopeful distress call signals potential rescue. By the end, Nagumo suggested supporting each other's classes for all students to excel. By the end, they had cultivated a network of understanding through open and sincere dialogue. Cheers of relief rang out as they were rescued. They agreed that supporting each other was essential for their well-being. As the S.S. Hasegawa faces a sudden storm, students must band together to survive.
