

The UNO is seen as a racist organization, not promoting peace in oppressed nations, leading to the establishment of the international court for peacekeeping. It aims to resolve conflicts and maintain global peace, but remains ineffective.