

1–interaction between the material and the tissue: Based on the substances that are eluted (i.e., released) from the material when in contact with various tissues.