–The project's output will be items made from date seeds from palm trees that are grown exclusively in Oman.Next, use sandpaper to sand the date seeds, removing the outer shell.These accessories are manufactured from sustainable natural materials, which gives them a natural texture and an appealing appearance that reflects the wealth of a natural material.Another characteristic of date seeds is their durability, which makes them perfect for long–lasting accessories once they have been cleaned, dried, and worn.Additionally, because these items repurpose natural materials that may otherwise be wasted, they are seen as eco–friendly.Additionally, date seeds are readily available, which lowers the cost of accessories for the customer.The first step in the production of this product is gathering date seeds from palm palms.This product is composed of natural materials and can be round, rectangular, or any other shape.They gather the products once they have completed their creation..

Summarized by © lakhasly.com