

Model validation To ensure if the model valid or no we will compare the average number throughput obtained by the simulation model with the real one, by the barista experience the average number of customers served during the crowded times about 30 customers.