

The cytoplasmic film is encircled by a thick peptidoglycan of the A1 gamma type. The poly-gamma-D-glutamate case, which covers the S-layer, has an antiphagocytic job and its union is subject to ecological variables impersonating the mammalian host, like bicarbonate and a temperature of 37 degrees C