

In conclusion, art and architecture are closely connected. In the UAE, for example, architecture shows cultural values and creativity. Art is about expression and beauty, while architecture is about creating useful spaces that are also beautiful.