

There was a girl named Maitha who was sitting with her grandfather and her grandfather used to tell her about education in the Emirates in the past that teaching was by attending the Mutawa house and they were studying Islamic education and the Arabic language and he was telling me. How the UAE developed generation after generation.