

Two Primary Objectives ● First, the steps in the life cycle has to correspond to the progressive transitions in the principal systems engineering activities. ● Secondly, these steps had to be capable of being mapped into the principal life cycle models in use by the systems engineering community.