

The Aramco Saudi company is the most valuable oil company in the world, and is an example of strategic planning, effective government policies and leadership that can transform a company into a global powerhouse. Aramco's strategy aims to boost its competitive position by maintaining its position as the largest crude oil producer in the world, expanding gas activities, expand global recognition of its brand in the energy sector Aramco's strategy aims to climate change to grow its business sustainability by benefit technology and innovation to lower its climate impact. The company has invested heavily in impact and development to reduce carbon emissions, improve energy efficiency and explore alternative energy sources.