

For this fixed five-point input, the brute-force and median-based approaches are equally viable because they both run in constant time  $O(1)$ .