

The number of equivalence classes is equal to the number of possible word lengths in the dictionary.