

They are used in building docks and transporting containers. They may be in the shape of the letter A, and equipped with wheels so that they can be moved..