

Lawyer Omar confirmed that the court does not accept the defendants' denial of the charges against them unless they provide evidence proving that they did not commit the crime