

Augmented classrooms. The teacher and students were free to move around to view and manipulate geo-metric images, communicating through wireless LAN.