

Head nurse fills one of the most critical first line-managing roles in the administration of nursing services. Active participation in the professional nursing organization. This position is crucial in co-ordination and integrating the practice of nursing toward the attainment of primary goal of nursing services that rendering a high level of nursing care to each patient in each unit. Definition: She/he is the person responsible for direct and indirect nursing care of patient within an organized unit of a clinical area as medical, surgical units- ---etc.