

A feminist is someone who believes in and advocates for the social, political, and economic equality of the sexes.