

the emphasis lies on the pre-defined strategies with which products get access to a next atom (input strategy), are selected out In this chapter of a queue (queue discipline) and are re-directed after processing (send to). There is no Sink; consequently all products remain in the last Queue, see also Picture 7-1.