

people in the emirates practice some traditions that are unique and distinct to their country.