

The United Arab Emirates (UAE) is characterized by the beauty and diversity of its environment, encompassing a variety of landscapes, from vast sandy deserts to enchanting coastlines along the Arabian Gulf. The UAE is diligently striving to promote environmental awareness and preserve its natural resources. However, environmental challenges and natural disasters pose a growing concern for both authorities and society in the UAE.