

The key to maintaining diversity in the workplace is to be proactive in your company's hiring procedures. Use a variety of recruiting sources, such as job fairs, online events, online job boards, and social networking sites to reach a wide range of candidates (Carrasco, J.2023). This means taking steps to ensure that recruitment practices are fair and consistent and that everyone has equal opportunities to progress in their careers.