

Say NO to plastic straws..As one of the top producers and users of plastic worldwide, we recycle only a mere 9% of it. In conclusion The UN wants to drastically reduce plastic be 2024 by 80% by many steps in order to reduce plastic pollution and waste into concrete action by reorienting and diversification – replacing products such as plastic wrappers, sachets and takeaway items with products made from alternative materials.The general idea behind this is to encourage sales of new products and upgrades, An exorbitant amount of plastic waste continues to plague our oceans, threatening marine life and the people who depend on these waters for their livelihoods.More and more companies are making large-scale commitments to eliminate unnecessary plastic and make their plastic reusable, recyclable or compostable.