

Liposomes are spherical lipid bilayers from 50 nm to 1000 nm in diameter and serve as a convenient delivery vehicle for biologically active molecules.