

Wow, the Museum of the Future in Dubai sounds absolutely fascinating! I love how the architect incorporated the concept of representing both our current knowledge and the unknown future. The design of the museum, with its torus shape and elliptical void, is so futuristic. It's impressive how quickly buildings are popping up in the city. It's like a giant hula hoop! It must be an incredible sight to see.