

The thing is, for me as a medical doctor, they don't have to explain that much because I understand that. Unlike normal patients, I understand the medical conditions quite early, but they explained it in a very good and very nice and understandable way.