

The Alps are one of the most beautiful and important natural features in Europe.