

Malaysia's equatorial climate is characterized by temperatures and humidity that remain high throughout the year.