

Asma, a 75-year-old grandmother of eight, enjoyed telling her grandchildren stories about her youth. "My life has improved dramatically since Asma found me," says Sabah. These stories usually featured Sabah, Asma's best childhood friend. Asma and Sabah had been as close as sisters. But Asma never forgot her childhood friend.