

Many of us dread tests because we've been wounded by a few over the years, and sometimes severely. Vision narrows, the mind seizes; all feeling drains from the extremities.