

Starbucks employs a structured hierarchy that aligns short-term actions with long-term goals through an organized planning process.