

Detective Colmes arrived at Jones's Jewelry shortly after the burglary. Mr. Jones explained that he discovered broken glass on the pavement outside his shop, indicating a broken display window. Upon entering, he found the jewelry from the display missing, leading him to believe the burglar entered through the window.