

Annual cross-country events are organized throughout Norway, attracting a great number of participants.