

It is the minimum temperature where fuel ignites. This indicates that biodiesel is safe compared to conventional fuels.